

WIND BUILDER

The most informative, hands-on publication for developers and contractors building industrial, commercial and utility-scale wind facilities in North America.

2012 Media Kit

Formerly Alternative Power Construction

Alternative Power Construction (APC) is now...

Since 2009, APC has been covering all renewable energy sources; however, the overwhelming majority of APC's 5,000+ direct request subscribers are building and developing wind and solar facilities.* That being the case, we have changed the way we will be presenting and delivering information to our subscribers.

In 2012, Alternative Power Construction will focus strictly on wind and solar construction and will be transformed into a flip book. One side will focus on wind, and when flipped, the other side of the magazine will feature solar stories. The new titles will be Wind Builder and Solar Builder — two books in one!

Regular Departments:

Safety — Safety is a huge factor in all construction projects, including those in the solar industry. Developing a culture of safety on the work site is a must for contractors.

Optimization — Even the smallest changes and additions to a project can make a huge difference. The latest technology and production advancements are discussed here.

Contractor Picks — Contractors like to use products that come recommended by their peers. This regular section will feature different contractors' best product/service picks each issue!

Regional Focus — See the latest projects, the companies involved and the individuals making it happen in a new area of the United States each issue.

100% Direct Request!
